

Idea #24

Hand and Foot Triplet Coordination #2

Copyright © T R Lake
<http://drumming.timsparlour.com>

1.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 1. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the lower line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.

1A.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 1A. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the upper line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.

2.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 2. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the lower line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.

2A.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 2A. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the upper line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.

3.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 3. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the lower line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.

3A.

Hand and foot triplet coordination exercise 3A. The notation is on a single staff with a drum icon and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of four measures. Each measure contains a triplet of eighth notes on the upper line of the staff. Above each triplet, there is a vertical line with an 'x' at the top, indicating a foot tap. The number '3' is written below each triplet.